OUR ACKNOWLEDGMENT

With gratitude, we acknowledge the Traditional Custodians of this land and honour their enduring connection to Country. We pay our respects to Elders past and present, and to all First Nations people among us.

A SAFE AND CARING PARISH

We strive to make our parish a place where everyone feels safe, valued, and respected. Safeguarding is a shared responsibility, and we thank our community for helping us uphold this commitment.

If a word from Scripture settles in your heart or invites you to pause, we welcome you to share that grace. Your reflection becomes a gift that strengthens and uplifts our community. To offer a contribution for this space, scan QR code or e-mail office@nhparish.org.au

VOICE FROM THE PEWS

Marianne Kaw Deveza

This Sunday's readings made me think about the things God places in our hands and entrusts to our care. In the first reading, Eliakim is given the key of the house of David and responsibility for his people. Then in the Gospel, Jesus entrusts Peter with the keys of the kingdom of heaven.

It made me stop and think: what has God entrusted to me? A gift, a role, a relationship, a ministry, even someone's trust — we are asked to hold these things with care and use them for the good of others. That thought felt particularly close to me this week.

I had one of those moments when something I was responsible for didn't quite go as I had hoped. I found myself replaying it in my mind, thinking about what I could have done differently and wondering whether I had let someone down. When something has been entrusted to us and we genuinely want to do it well, it can be hard not to be disappointed in ourselves when we fall short.

And perhaps that is why Peter stood out to me. Jesus didn't entrust Peter with something so important because Peter was perfect. He would still misunderstand Jesus, make mistakes and even deny Him — and yet Jesus knew all of this and still entrusted him with the keys. I find a lot of comfort in that.

Being entrusted with something does not mean we will always get it right. There will be moments when we wish we had done better. Sometimes they teach us to be more careful. Sometimes they make us more humble. Sometimes they remind us that we need other people. And sometimes they simply teach us to begin again.

Perhaps that, too, is part of being entrusted with something — not getting everything right, but allowing God to keep forming us through it. God knows our strengths, but He also knows our limitations. And still, He entrusts us with people to love, work to do, gifts to share and opportunities to serve. Perhaps He is not asking us to be perfect with what He has placed in our hands. He is asking us to be faithful — to learn when we get things wrong, to make things right where we can, and to keep going.

And as I sit with these readings, I find myself asking a slightly different question now: What else has God entrusted to me? Perhaps there are people, gifts, opportunities or small responsibilities already in my life that I have never really thought of as something entrusted to my care.

ONE HEART, MANY HANDS

JOIN OUR PARISH EVENTS TEAM

Our parish events are made possible by the generosity of people who are willing to lend a hand. We're putting together a Parish Events Team — a group of parishioners we can call on from time to time to help with things like setting up, serving refreshments, welcoming people, packing up, and other practical tasks at parish gatherings and celebrations. There is no ongoing commitment and you don't need to be available for every event. When help is needed, we'll simply let the team know and you can volunteer when you're available. Whether you can give an hour, help occasionally, or simply be an extra pair of hands when needed, we'd love to have you involved. Interested? Scan the QR code to register your interest. One Heart. Many Hands. Together, we can make our parish gatherings happen!
